

This Week at the District

Chancellor’s Budget Forum

This week, we began the Chancellor’s Budget Forum with stops at the District Office and Coastline. Vice Chancellor Andy Dunn outlined the current budget as well as the potential impact of the State budget, Prop. 30 and Measure M. As always, it was nice to hear from our Coast family regarding ideas, concerns and ways to move the District forward despite the challenges we face. There will be a forum at OCC at 10:30am on Monday, October 8 (Fine Arts 116) and at GWC at 3:30pm on Tuesday, October 9 (Humanities 107). I encourage everyone to attend.

Board President Moreno, Trustee Prinsky, Trustee Patterson, Trustee Hornbuckle, Coastline President Adrian, Chancellor Jones, and Newport Beach Mayor Nancy Gardner

Congratulations to Coastline on a successful ribbon cutting ceremony for the Newport Learning Center. It was clear at the event that this award-winning building is destined to be a jewel within the Coast District. I would like to thank Board President Jim Moreno for his speech and Trustee Jerry Patterson, Trustee Mary Hornbuckle and Trustee Lorraine Prinsky for attending the event and helping me in congratulating the Coastline team on a job well done. The building will open for classes in January and has garnered much media attention for its design and Gold LEEDS certification for its “green” features.

RP Group Student Success Conference

This week’s 2012 Student Success Conference in Costa Mesa engaged a cross-section of California community college professionals to explore strategies for building institutional effectiveness and student learning. It provided a forum to strengthen our understanding of critical issues that shape student success, as well as opportunities to share practical examples of how colleges are helping to improve student outcomes.

Orange County Legislative Task Force

I attended the OCLTF meeting this week with Trustee Mary Hornbuckle and District Director of Public Affairs Martha Parham. The task force discussed several platforms for the coming year including continuing work on Veterans' issues, completing a socioeconomic impact study and hosting a critical conversation regarding the future of community colleges. I should note that last year's task force was successful in launching two bills that were signed by the Governor into law. Both bills advanced our commitment to Veterans and will assist them as they transition back to civilian life. We look forward to another successful year working with our neighboring college districts.

Update on Strategic Framework: Doing What Matters for Jobs and the Economy

One of the future strategies within this Framework will be the braiding of SB 70, Perkins Leadership, and EWD funding streams to execute on regional sector strategies as is the proposed direction of SB 1402, SB 1070 and the Perkins V blueprint. I would like to recognize our Coast team who coordinated last week's successful, regional town-hall meeting with System Office Vice Chancellor Van Ton-Quinlivan and Acting Chancellor Erik Skinner. Accolades to Dr. Andreea Serban, Dejah Swingle, and Jennifer Kochanski for their professionalism and hard work that contributed so much to the success of this event.

Sincerely,

GWC Students Volunteer for Community Clean-up

On Saturday, September 29, 71 students and faculty participated in a neighborhood clean up as part of a multi-project Service Learning Program, made possible by a CSU Partnership Grant.

Students volunteered their time to clean up the Oak View neighborhood in Huntington Beach. Oak View is an approximately one square mile with a population of approximately 10,000 individuals. The low-income residents face multiple barriers in accessing services and financial resources. This project helps beautify the neighborhood.

Volunteers picked up trash from the neighborhood and cleaned the elementary school: washed the entire gym, washed windows, cleaned the play ground equipment, and swept the sand off the playground. Home Depot and Harbor Freight donated the shovels, gloves and bags.

Service learning is a powerful means of teaching and learning strategy that integrates meaningful community service with instruction and reflection to enrich the learning experience, teach civic responsibility, and strengthen communities.

Golden West College is engaging students in three more community based service activities this Fall.

November 21 - Sustainability Project
